The Americans, however, had decidedly the best of the game, and their play was much adupsets the lawn tennis schedule as arranged early in the spring, and possibly the matches for the Davis International Challenge cup may be played on the courts of the Meadow Club at Southampton, Long Island and not at the St. George Club grounds as originally intended.

Several weeks ago Judge Henry E. Howland and W. A. Larned arranged for an invitation tournament to be given by the Meadow Club, the play to begin July 24. The English cracks were to be entertained there and do their preliminary tuning up before the international matches that were to hold the St. George courts the week of July 31. As the Englishmen cannot arrive here before Aug. 3, Judge Howland has postponed the Meadow Club tourney until Aug. 6. He is now endeavoring with the assistance of Larned to have the series of contests between the American and English teams become a part of that tournament. In the event of Richard Stevens and others of the committee on the international matches agreeing to this change there will be no play at Hoboken as the national championships at Newport are scheduled for Aug. 14.

The list of American experts who have accepted the invitation of the Meadow Club includes: Malcolm D. Whitman, Bob Wrenn, Ollie Campbell, W. A. Larned, Bob Huntington, Dwight F. Davis, Phil Wrenn, E. A. Larned, Ford Huntington, James D. Pell, Beals C. Wright, Edward L. Hail, John A. Allen, H. H. Hackett, R. D. Little, the Princeton champion; John F. Talmage and Halcombe Ward, the Harvard crack.

No definite decision will be given for several days as to the place and date of holding the international matches. In the meantime the Meadow Club people are straining every nerve to capture the event for their courts.

BROOKLYN, 10; BOSTON, S.

Though Jennings was still unable to play and Capt. Kelley was compelled to lay off in the second inning because of a bruised elbow, the Brooklyns had no trouble in taking the Boston team into camp at Washington Park yesterday out to see the old rivals play, a surprisingly poor attendance. The Champions gave a fine exhibition of clean hitting, especially in the sixth and eighth innings when Dineen was hammered for a total of eight runs. Nops, the left-hander, was a puzzie for the Bostons. Barry and Dineen made five of the visitors seven hits. Nops had beautiful control, giving but one base on balls and striking out five but one base on balls and striking out five 'men.

There was some ragged fielding by both teams, and also some magnificent plays. Dahlen and De Montreville knocked down a number of heavy smashes, while Collins, Long and hearty did well. Farrell carried off the real honors at the bat when, with the bases filled, in the eighth inning he drove a clean two-bagger to the centrefield fence and sent everybody home. Collins made a star double play all slone in the first inning. With one out Keeler made a three-bagger to left. Then Collins caught a hot shot from Sheckard's bat a lew inches from the ground and stepped upon third base before Keeler could get back to it.

The Boston team played with very little life. The men acted mechanically as if they did not care what the result might be. That there is a screw loose somewhere with this fine ball team there can be no doubt. It is said that the players are split over the captaincy question. Duffy, the real captain is a bench warmer, while Tenny, the noted first baseman is acting captain. Manager Selee appears to be between two firs. Those who have seen this same Boston team at its best could not be leve their eyes resterday. Soden, Conant and Billings, the Boston owners, are also said to be divided in opinions.

ANOTHER WORLD'S RECORD. Play in the New York State Association Tour

WATERCURE SETS UP NEW FIGURES MURRAY ISLE, N. Y., July 18.-The second AT BRIGHTON BEACH. round in the four tournaments of the New York State Chess Association began at 8 o'clock last

Dead Heat for the Babylon Stakes Between Bombshell and Native-Prince McClurg Takes Blue Devil's Measure After a Grand Contest-Three Falls in the Sixth. The mid-week gathering at Brighton Beach acecourse was surprisingly large yesterday, and it seems clear that while sweitering weather continues to chase people of a few hours leisure, out of the city and Secretary Ralph Bayard keeps on furnishing genuine attractions the Vesterday the stake feature was the Rabylon s well-endowed race, with selling allowances, for three-year-olds, at seven furiongs. Oread. leaving seven to go with Vesuvian, an odds-on favorite, and Native and Bombshell the only others seriously played to beat him. A quiet tip on Pink Domino at the last moment forced her odds from 12 to 1 to 9 to 1, and she flattered her backers from flagfall to the head of the homestretch. Then Bombshell and Native came through and reached the line in a sensational dead heat. They divided the honors and there was no advance on the selling price of either. The time beat the track record of 1:27 1-5 made

First Class-Searle lost to Weeks; Scripture beat Wright, and Helms lost to Chency.

Second Class -Dixon beat Stone; Close beat Mchwalne and Watson beat bean.

The second day's play opened this morning at 10 o'clock when Marshall met Recthing, and Waller played Karpinski in the third round of the masters class. Marshall offered a Queens sambit, which Roething declined. Marshall on his eighteenth move, forced the wire of the exchange, and Roething was compelled to resign in forty moves. Karpinski for a second time defended a Queens pawn, opening with the Dutch defence, and forming a strong attack, mated Waller in twenty moves.

The only other games finished in the morning resulted in Weeks beating Wright in the first class, and Scripture losing to Stone in the second class. During the afternoon, in the Mastors class, Marshall defended with a Petroff against Waller, quickly getting the attack, and mating his opponent in twenty-one moves. Karpinski and Roething finished their game, adjourned from the first round, Karpinski opening with Ruy Lopez. Roething won a pawn in the middle game, the ending coming down to six pawns and a bishop against five pawns and a knight. After a stubborn fight Roething scored in fifty-six moves.

In the first class Searle beat Helms and Cheney won from Scripture. In the second class Dixon beat McIlwaine, and Orvis beat Scripture. In the fourth round of the first class Scripture beat Quigley. Averell has withdrawn, leaving Scripture and Quigley to play five games. The record follows:

Larchmont Race Week.

Larchmont race week will begin on Saturday, and there will be racing of some sort every day until Saturday, July 28. This week was established a few years ago to take the place of the annual cruise of the club. Like everything eise that the Larchmont Club undertakes, it was at once a big success. Each day there will be yacht races except on Tuesday when the afternoon will be given up to water sports. In the evenings there will be "frolics," concerts, fetes, minatrel and dramatic entertainments and smokers.

In a circular which the Regatta Committee has issued it is stated that the race week was inaugurated "for the purpose of encouraging yacht racing and bringing together the crack yachts on the coast, and in order that the yacht owners residing some distance from New York may be warranted in bringing their yachts to the Larchmont rendezvous the ciub has decided to give three large regattas, open to all classes, and on the intervening duys give races for special classes." day, and there will be racing of some sort every give races for special classes."
Prizes are offered in each class wherein two yachts start, a second prize when three yachts start and a third prize if five yachts start.

LADY GERALDINE'S STAKE.

SHE WINS THE STAR EVENT AT DE-

Battlesign Breeks Down While a Preminent Factor — $175,000 Said to Have Been Wagered on the Races—Cornelia Belle, James R. and Lady Pipes Easy Winners. DETROIT, July 18.-Sensational in the extreme was the great race of the Detroit Driving Club, the M. & M. $10,000 stake to-day. Over 10,000 persons filled the betting ring, rowded the quarterstretch and lawns, and literally packed from end to end the great stand of the club. The race was the third on the programme, the unfinished 2:19 trot and the 2:20 pace preceding it. There were eleven horses in the field and up to 1 o'clock $85,000 had found its way into the box, the various borses selling from established just before the first heat, when the field sold for $1,000 to $300 on the Henry S. horse and $200 on the Constantine bay mare Lady Geraldine. In scoring for the first heat Henry S. showed up a trifle lame, and before the sixth score was so palpably unfit to race that the judges ordered him out and declared all bets off. In the new betting Battlesign was made a favorite at $20 against the whole field at $50. It was a magnificent race between Battle Sign and Axtello to the three-quarters where the latter went off his feet and dropped back. Battlesign led into the stretch and logged home three lengths of Axtello who finished three lengths in front of Lady Geraldine. In the second heat Battle Sign reigned the favorite at $50 with even money on the field. Battlesign led clear to the three-quarter pole, where he was challenged by Axtello, with Geers forcing Lady Geraldine very fast on the outside. Just at the distance stand Battlesign went off his feet and was palpably in trouble. Axtello rushed by with Lady Geraldine at his wheel. Right in front of the stand Geers shook up the Lady and rushed under the wire, winner of the heat by a soant head, with Battlesign limping in third place. If was then announced that Battlesign had calked himself in the break, had out his nigh forclegs badly, severing a tendon, He was drawn.

Annie Burns took the next two heats rather handly after the half-mile post. In the fifth heat Geers sent Lady Geraldine to outtrot Annie Burns The pace was hot and Just before the half was reached Burns went into the air and continued on a run clear around to the three-quarters. At this the flag feil Just across Annie Burns's neck, while Lady Geraldine fashed under the wire. It was thought the Burns mare would be set back for running and distanced. Had this been done, and it would have been done in any ordinary race, Lady Geraldine would have won with no second horse, as all the other horses were ruled out as non-winners. The judges very lenlently overlooked the Burns run and placed her fifth.

The sixth and concluding heat of the day saw Lady Geraldine afavorite at 50 to 40. Annir Burns was the great favorite at 50 to 40. BANTAMS FIGHT HARD.

Tommy Felts Whips Joe Hurst in Twenty-five Rounds at the Greenwood A. C.

Two bantams, Tommy Feltz of Brooklyn and Joe Hurst of this city, put up an interesting fight at the Greenwood A. C. last night The pair weighed in at 110 pounds and were on their feet at the expiration of twenty-five rounds, the limit. Feltz, by forcing matters won, but he was unable to knock his rival out as his friends expected he would. Feltz hammered Hurst's body most of the time. occasionally swinging for the jaw. Feltz was occasionally swinging for the jaw. Feltz was a 2 to 1 favorite and much money exchanged hands. Eddle Dougherty was the referee. A large crowd was present.

Terry McGovern, who occupied a conspicuous place near Feltz's corner, was introduced. The featherweight champion was applauded and was asked to make a speech. He did not say anything, but Announcer Fred Burnes acted as spokesman. He said Terry could fight better than he could talk and the crowd was satisfied.

better than he could talk and the crowd was satisfied.

Only one preliminary bout preceded the event of the night. The contestants were young Horney and Johnnie Reagan, both from Brocklyn. Ten rounds was the limit and the weight 116 pounds. In the third round Horney was dropped twice, but the bell sounded in time to save Horney. Horney tried his best to stave off Reagan's vicious rushes, but he was not strong enough, and in the sixth Reagan, after flooring Horney twice, finally put him in Queer street with a stiff left-hander on the jaw. Horney was all but out and in order to save him from further punishment his seconds threw up the sponge.

Former Champion Will Not Meet the Kid

-Jim After Jeffries. Talk of a battle between Kid McCoy and Jim Corbett was revived yesterday, but nothing is likely to come of it. McCoy is willing to fight Corbett at Madison Square Garden on Aug. 25 and is ready to go into training at once if a battle can be arranged. Corbett, however, is not so anxious to tackle the Kid. He is pre-is not so anxious to tackle the Kid. He is prepared to fight, but wants another crack at Jim Jeffries.

Immediately after his grand showing with Jeffries last May, Corbett said he would go on with McCoy if Jeffries refused another chance. The champion is willing to accommodate Corbett, but he cannot see his way clear just now, owing to the fact that his arm is in very bad shape.

In a talk with THE SUN reporter last night McCoy said: "I am on deck to sign papers for a match with Corbett as soon as he gets ready. I think such a fight would draw a lot of money."

George Considine, Corbett's manager, said: "The report that the Kid and Jim have signed to fight is pure rot. Corbett will not fight McCoy unless Jeffries comes outflathy and says he will not meet him. Corbett cannot gain much by whipping McCoy. He wants to become champion and can get the title only by putting Jeffries away. If Corbett makes a match with Jeffries, we are willing to fight in Madison Square Garden in August."

Despite the warm weather on Tuesday night

quite a crowd of sports attended the first show of the Carlisle A. C., which has its quarters in ten rounds each and one of twenty rounds made up the card. The principals in the windup were Arthur Jones of Washington and A Johnson of Albany, both colored. They weighed 126 pounds. The fight was stirring throughout. In the seventeenth round Jones caught Johnson on the jaw with a heavy right and put him to sleep.

The first preliminary was between Jack O'Neill, a strong young Pole, and Toby Owens of the Sampson A. C. The distance was ten rounds at catchweights. Owens was no match for his rival and after being knocked about the ring he had to quit in the third round. O'Neill, of course, got the decision.

The second "curtain raiser" brought together Frank McGrane of East New York and "Spike" Connolly of Brooklyn. The limit was ten rounds at 110 pounds. This was a fast and wicked fight, both doing their utroost to score a knockout. It was so even, however, thet at the end of the tenth round the referee called the bout a draw. Johnson of Albany, both colored. They

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

Women Road Riders Continue Record Seeking in the Heat.

Another demonstration that under proper raining conditions a long-distance ride is not injurious is being furnished by Mrs. E. R. Bayne, whose programme when she set out at midnight on July 8 was to ride a century one day and a double the next, or make an average of that sort for thirty days' riding over the Merrick road. She was ahead of her schedule yesterday and gaining weight. When she started she weighed exactly 98 pounds. At the end of the tenth century she weighed pounds and 7 ounces. Yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when about to start on her fffteenth century, she weighed 102 pounds 14 ounces in the same clothing and on the same scales that the other weights were made. She finished 1,400 miles at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning and then took a sleep until 3:30 P. M. Mrs. Bayne is a native of the West, and a brunette, and does not suffer much from the heat. Mrs. Hickey and Will Brown, who are her advisers, have been more fearful of the heat than the rider. She says she does not mind it. Brown and Tom Belcher were her chief pacemakers yesterday. She was expected to finish her fifteenth century at midnight last night, and it was her intention to keep right on and make a double by morning.

Undeterred by the heat, though she suffered from it greatly, Mrs. Jane Lindsay yesterday kept up her record-breaking ride Valley Stream-Hempstead twenty-five-mile course. She took more rest yesterday than on Monday or Tuesday, but completed 600 miles at 5:30 and at 7 o'clock started out on her seventh century with E. W. Diltz, Tom Hall seventh century with E. W. Diltz, Tom Hall and George Laurie making pace. Her time for the 600 miles was a little more than fifty nine hours, or better than an average of ten miles an hour every hour since 6 o'clock on Monday morning, when she started. Mrs. Lindsay has not yet gained the appetite that comes after the first stage of acute fatigue. She eats soups and dairy dishes sparingly, but partakes liberally of ice cream. During the heat of the day yesterday she had cracked ice on her head and tied about her wrists.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the New York State Division, L. A. W., was held vesterday to transact official business, but before adjourning the committee passed a resolution indorsing side; ath building and recommending League members to support the movement by purchasing license tags. This action was taken because some riders have antagonized the license proposition and have seemed to expect that the League should join them in their opposition. The Governor's signature to the sidepath law was urged by a special L. A. W committee.

There have been no organized open century runs over the Long Island course this month and there will not be any on the remaining Sundays of the month, the C. R. C. run scheduled for next Sunday having been postponed until October. In August, however, there will be several runs. The largest will probably be that of the Veterans on Aug. 5, which on the corresponding date last year had 731 riders. On Saturday night, Aug. 11, the Century Road Club will have its annual moonlight century, followed on Sunday by another run, so that those who choose may make a double century. On. Aug. 26 the Jefferson Wheelmen will have their annual run and the Penn Glen Wheelmen will probably take the vacant date of the 19th. All these runs will be open affairs with medals for the survivors.

All these runs for the survivors. A meeting of the Race Committee of the Associated Cycling Clubs has been called for to-night at 10 West Sixuleth street. The business on hand is that of arranging for the united century of Sept. 23, and all clubs in the organization are requested to send their captains or other representatives. The initial night meet by electric light at Vallaburg, that was postponed on last Thursday because of rain, will be held to night. The programme includes an unlimited pursuit race between J. P. Jacobson, the new venturer into the professional field, and Fred Titus, the old-timer.

The Mineola was to wed to Bristol last night to have her sails overhauled and returned to-night. The Yanker came back this afternoon with a new strut in place and with a patched up ballooner. The Virginia and Rainbow remained at anchor all day, the crews receiving a rest. There is nothing known of the rocert that Capt. Sycamore is to sail the Rainbow. The crew of the bostsay they do not believe it, and there are no indications of a charge from Capt. Parker.

The race will be sailed over the same course as that of Tuesday, if possible, a triangle of fifteen miles. This triangle is so laid out that all the sailing may be in the oren sea, without the vachts going in shore at all. The start will not be made until noon. This change is made to accommodate the owners, as the starting point is so near the harbor that it is not necessary to start earlier.

Merry Gal to Victory.
From the London Daily Mail.

Mr. W. H. Walker has presented little Reiff with £1,000 for winning the Princess of Wales's Stakes on Merry Gal. The earnings of the two brothers must be more than considerable, and it is satisfactory to hear that the bulk of the youngster's is being invested for him until he shall arrive at years of discretion. Generally it is otherwise with producies—they are exploited that other people may live inclusivous idieness.
